Disclaimer

By visiting this website you understand that its content probably requires you to be over eighteen (18) years old or at an age that is legal under the laws of your country to visit suchlike websites, with adult content as it is legally called.

You understand and accept that all of the content of this website is the personal views, thoughts, dreams, ways of expression, experiences etc. of Andreas Kastanas, i.e. mine, and likewise you should treat them.

You also understand and accept that since I do not plan to censor myself for no one, it is certain that many of you will not find the content of this website to your liking. In that case you relinquish your rights in advance from any demand of compensation ethical or material you will feel you deserve as a result that I express myself freely, since you have been warned beforehand of the fact and you can easily avoid it.

You understand and accept that I have no other connection with the companies that I use as a client in order for this website and its content to be created and function.

You understand and accept that I have no responsibility if by stupidity you try to imitate the way of life, exercise, views, mine or of my heroes in the works of Art I have created. Remember that every person is different and what works for me doesn't mean it works for you too.

Intellectual property

The whole content of this website is protected by the international laws of Intellectual rights/property. Everything is my creation, hence my property, from the pictures, text, audio and video recordings to the design and implementation of the website, except if declared otherwise. I give permission to download my works for free and save them to your computer from this website, strictly for personal use and by accepting the current terms.

I do not allow the reproduction, adaptation, commercial use, distortion, misappropriation, distribution, broadcasting and public presentation in any way, of the whole or part of any work. In other words I do not allow anything else (since the catalog is infinite) except the personal viewing of the work or linking to it on the web.

For any other use contact me and ask for my written permission, which I strongly doubt you will get.

Laws about intellectual rights/property, have a more serious reason of existence than regulating commerce. A moral one. They secure the completeness of the work of Art, granting the creator the right of life and death over its creation, in other words his freedom of expressing himself as he wishes, protecting him from any distortion that financial, political or of plain stupidity reasons threaten him or the work.

Adaptation is not freedom of speech, counter speech is. The completeness in the presentation of a work of Art is of the same value as the completeness in the presentation of any idea.

Of course in a ideal dream-like humanity all this is unnecessary, like doors, clothes and any kind of passwords. When you leave your daughter naked at home, with an unlocked door and having published the passwords for the security cameras, then I will disclaim my intellectual rights.

Donations

By making a donation you understand that it is NOT tax deductible since I am not a charity, society or nonprofit organization.

For bank transfers, regarding any mistake you have seven (7) days to inform me. If you wish a refund this will happen minus bank expenses, as soon as possible. After seven (7) days have passed you relinquish your rights to revoke the donation.

You also understand and accept that any amount of donation, is given to me without any demand, from me personally or from my future inheritors. You understand and accept that I provide my work free of charge without demanding a donation. You also understand and accept that there is no commercial transaction between us.

I accept donations from anyone: private person or company or association or team, regardless color, religion, or belief etc i.e. from anyone that for his own reasons wishes to support me and my work, except for political and national organizations.

I reserve the right to deny a donation from anyone without explanation.

Personal data

Whatever you send me through email or your donations personal data will remain confidential and I will never share them with anyone expect if I am forced by law.

Do not send me anything that consists unpublished intellectual property of yours. If you do, you relinquish your rights in advance from any demand of compensation ethical or material from me if you see it misappropriated/stolen from anyone.

Whatever you find outside this current website regarding myself or that is not confirmed through the website and it is proclaimed that it comes from me, consider it stolen, distorted and phony. You will never get any material from me or authorized by me that seeks or provides anything and any communication will always take place through the official email of the website.

More specifically: my books are not obtainable or retail anywhere on paper or digital form, you will not find digital copies with my music, my theatrical plays or my films etc anywhere else and there is no one authorized by me to speak on my behalf, to ask or receive money or anything else that concerns me etc. Any of my future activity will always be presented, announced or confirmed through this website. I do not have a public account on social media.

You will also never hear anyone to speak about me and say that has knowledge about my life that isn't lying. It is known to my closest people that I have always guarded my privacy, so you will not find a person that really knows me and honors me to speak publicly in great length about me, since I will regard it as a personal insult.
